THE STEVEN LOW FOUNDATION LA FONDATION STEVEN LOW

The Steven Low Foundation was created with the mission of empowering Indigenous nations and communities who share territory with Canada. Founder, Steven Low is a Holocaust survivor who fled to Canada seeking refuge. After learning of the country's painful history with regards to the treatment of Indigenous peoples, Low made it his mission to help in bringing hope, healing, and reconciliation to Indigenous communities who continue to feel the devastating effects of residential schools decades later. The Steven Low Foundation is dedicated to finding the graves of missing Indigenous children located at former residential schools and supporting other needs, as required, in collaboration with Indigenous communities across the nation.

As a Holocaust survivor, I know firsthand what it is like to be robbed of one's identity, heritage, and future. The Steven Low Foundation is focused on bringing some closure to those suffering from generational trauma while our goal for Rosebud Oil Company Ltd. is to support the development of Indigenous entrepreneurial projects across Canada.

ROCL + THE STEVEN LOW FOUNDATION

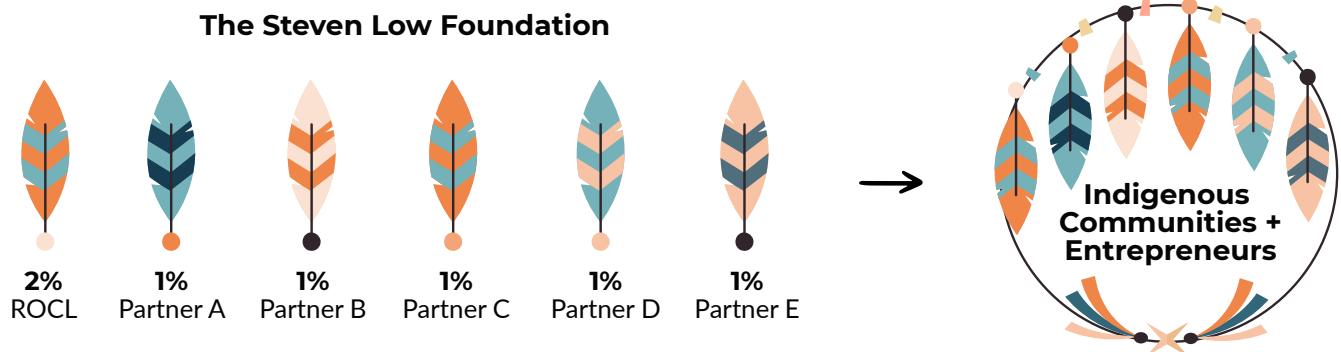

To ensure the longevity of The Steven Low Foundation and its efforts, ROCL has developed a ROI model whereby 2% of all of the company's revenues will be invested into the Foundation to ensure its sustainable future.

By investing in Indigenous entrepreneurial projects, ROCL is supporting sustainable economic development and job creation within the communities, while also contributing to Canada's overall economic growth and competitiveness.

ROCL PROJECT PARTNERS + THE STEVEN LOW FOUNDATION

Furthermore, ROCL project partners, those who receive funding, are asked to donate 1% of their annual revenues into the foundation as a 'pay it forward' initiative to ensure that together the foundation's work of promoting healing, hope, and reconciliation for Indigenous communities across Canada continues.
